Coronation of the Interstellar Imperial Monarchy of Emperor Arcturus I (March, 2500) Emperor of the Sons Domain of the Terran de Korhal, Remains of the Confederation of Terraners, and other features September, 2504â € "September 2506, 2500 A Early April, 2505 Terran's domain, known as man's domain [1] or simply as the domain, is an Empire Terrán. Day of the domain [2] and opening day are national vacations of the Empire. [3] History [] "The time has come, my table companies, to meet with a new flag. In the unit there is strength; and many of the dissident features have joined us. Of the many, we will free a whole indivisible, capitulating only one throne. And since that throne, I'll take care of you! From this day, no human being makes war against another human. That no Terran agency conspire against this new beginning. And do not leave that nobody is consent to allen powers. And to all the enemies of humanity, do not seek to open our way, because we will win, regardless of the cost! As a planet after planet appealed to the children of Korhal for help after the Collapse of the Terran Confederation, Arcturus Mengsk announced that a new government was necessary to protect these worlds. [4] Promising victory over Zerg and the protosa, formed the domination and was crowned by emperor. [5] One of her First decrees was to start the reconstructions are constructed by emperor. Korhal Ukción, choosing to do the world of the Children's domain of Korhal spent a long time in the New Folsom prison during his rebellion against the Confederation, the dominion continued to use it. [8] Each scientist, philosopher and free thinker who challenged Mengsk's rule was imprisoned in New [9] Mengsk reinforced the domain's arises by recruiting the remaining Confederate warriors, and then started march the different worlds under your care. [10] A permanent defense force was stationed in Agria,[11] which became one of the main botanical and wildlife preserves of the Dominion. [12] General Horace Warfield was seen as one of Arcturus' most trusted advisors. Mengsk trust Edmund Duke to Char to get the zerg out. However, Duke was defeated by the zerg and forced to fall. [15] The Amerigo was infiltrated by Kerrigan, who accessed the Dominion network and located the Fantasma Program records, allowing him to learn about his mental condition that kept his religious powers in control. [16] When Tassadar violated Dominion airspace and endangered human life in an attack on the zerg, Duke ordered Tassadar to withdraw his ships immediately or he would open fire on his ships. Upon receiving what he assumed was a hostile response[17], Duke sent his fleet and was defeated by Tassadar. [18] Alpha Squadron was also sent to deal with the famous contraband Alan Schezar and his Scavengers, which led to other mysteries when the Dominion discovered that Schezar could control zerg somehow. The detachment broke, disobeying orders to help the settlers of Bhekar Ro. The squadron suffered heavy losses fighting for a xel'naga temple against protos and zerg[20] and was cut off from the Dominion for months later. [21] The following section contains StarCraft information: Retribution. The Terran Dominion also participated in a war to recover a powerful xel'naga artifact, the Argus Stone of the Aridas planet. The Dominion intended to use it as a military weapon. the planet was technically a position of Terran Dominion, the arrival of And the Zerg forces complicated things. Jenson ArquÃ9 was in charge of the expedition of the domain that faced the Protoss and the Zerg forces complicated things. fortress on the planet. However, in an effort to recover the stone, the Zerg crusaders destroyed the escort of Battle cruises of ArquÃ9, and then persecuted through multiple domain bases. The ZERG finally stole the stone of the domain forces who allied with the Protoss and followed the Zerg to Char, only to be defeated. [22] The Brood War [] Main Article: Episode V of Starcraft Boralis was attacked by an attack force of the direction of the United Earth. Although the city was well defended, the command center was destroyed after Lieutenant Samir Duran of Confederate Resistance Forces, showed them an alternative route that led to the main domain data network. [25] The officers of the Confederate Resistance Forces Samir Duran and Angelina Emillian used this information to plan an attempted murder against Arcturus Mengsk while he visited Umoja. Mengsk was hampered by Umojan's distrust; They demanded that he kept his capital ships more from the outer marks, forcing him to descend into an obsolete drop cutter. Confederates used a Cassandra encoder to cut Mengsk's communications from the fleet of it and an EMP network to cut communications with the local defense forces of the protectorate. However, the attack was a failure, in Because the leader of the domain fleet, Edmund Duke, disobeyed the Umojan instructions to stay away when communications were cut. Mengsk learned the thorner "Uedâ", but he did not learn what it meant. Without knowing how the Confederates could could Arturus Mengsk believed that the Umojans were complicit in the attack.[26] The Dylarian shipyards. Duke led a Dominion fleet against them from Norad III, but was defeated by his newly acquired fleet. [25] The Dylarian shipyards were destroyed and Duke withdrew his forces from the quadrant. [27] The remains of the defenders of Dylar IV was fought. n battle, [29] Augustograd was besieged by the EDU. Mengsk delayed his advance as long as he could, but was forced to contact the UED fleet of Norad III requesting a dialogue with Admiral Gerard DuGalle.[30] He was rescued by Commander Jim Raynor and escaped through a dimensional reminder.[31] Main article: StarCraft Ker Episode VI Rigan offered to help Mengsk get Korhal back from the EDU if he lent him his psi emitters. In Braxis, the psi emitter was transported by a Dominion SCV and helped Kerrigan gather nearby zerg, which he used to bring down the psi disruptor.[32] After the EDU forces occupying Augustograd were crushed by Kerrigan gather nearby zerg, a jubilant Mengsk sent a Duke to establish its base of operations in Augustograd.[33] The next morning, Duke's base was attacked by crowds of zerg while most were asleep and unconscious. The base was destroyed and Duke was killed. [34] Warfield was not present due to his privileged status in Mengsk's eyes. [13] Mengsk denounced Kerrigan for her treason, but she replied that her actions were a well-justified revenge and left it in Korhal's hands. [35] Mengsk assembled a new flo [36] and attacked Kerrigan's base of operations at Char Aleph along with the rest of the UED fleet and a protoss navy.[37] Facing imminent defeat, Mengsk retreated early in the battle, telling Kerrigan that the because she would be waiting, ready to attack when she inevitably made a mistake.[38] Reconstruction[] Reconstruction[]Only together will we succeed. Only together will we succeed. Only together will we overcome. That's why we fight." - The propaganda of Arcturus Mengsk, after the Brood war, the Dominion army was still weak. He was unable to deal militarily with problems such as the Pirates of New Trinity, eventually resorting to mercenaries to destroy them. [39] When the Brodos War ended, many feared that the end of humanity was near, wondering which planets would point the zerg. However, the zerg withdrew from the front lines and an uncomfortable peace fell over the sector. It's been months. So years. Some speculated that the threat of zerg was over. [40] The Dominion was quickly able to restore its military and economic power. [41] Mengsk's media control allowed him to keep his atrocities (both past and present) hidden from the public. Most Dominion population accepted Mengsk's rule, believing he was the only leader capable of protecting them from alien threats in the Koprulu sector. Mengsk stated that the only opportunity for humanity to survive the dark days ahead was to join under his leadership, either by choice or by force. [42] Declaring the pacified zerg, he prepared plans to secure its rule and to bring the Kel-Morians and Umojans to the fold. [40] In the next war, the Dominion had time to build several large fleets with more advanced technology, as well as increase their knowledge of zerg.[43] The Rebuilt Domain Although Warfield retired in 2501,[13] the Domain rose again to become the most powerful force among the terranean factions. [44] Over the next four years, the Dominion extended its influence throughout the Koprulu sector.[45] He washed great fortune in the and reconstruction of Korhal, although portions of the irradiated desert remained intact in honor of those who He died in the Confederate bombing. The planetary defenses increased massively, and Mengsk turned Korhal on the stronger planet in the sector. [6] Skygeirr station The second most defended location in the Dominion space was Skygeirr's station, [46] where the domain had the help of Dr. Emil Narud in the combination of Protoss and Zerg DNA were creating hybrid creatures of immense can. [47] A bio-weapons laboratory orbiting chestnating in a captive asteroid was also used to breed the hybrid. [48] Mengsk planned to finish all those who have worked there. [49] [50] Mengsk's oppressive rule and powerful position became the objective of many revolutionary groups of Terrans. The most important among them were Raynor's assailants. [4] [42] [51] together with the creation of general efforts to exterminate the rebels. [42] The large amounts of domain weapons and hardware were stolen by Raynor's assailants. Mengsk spent trillion of crusts [52] to keep them constantly hunted and hardware were stolen by Raynor's assailants. significantly increasing surveillance by military domain forces, which only increased the agitation of the settlers. It was not clear if the domain was trying to eliminate the possible seditionists like Raynor or present a spectacle of force to discourage any imitator. [53] Consecurency of the fact that the Umojan protectorate was allowed "ideodogically consulted on dormancy and considered the individuals amen for individuals seeking refuge from the persecurated by the Fortures of Mengsk, the dominion took measures to undermine the sovereignty of Umoja and its worlds affiliates by imposing embargo on commercial embargoes. Do of murder against dissidents who persecute asylum in the territory of the protectorate. [7] AGRIA in 2503, Dominion Marines hired a group of very armed pirates in AGRIA to protect their valuable high scientific technologyCarelessly discovering the settlers who were caught in the crossfire. [11] Science dominance at the Shooter III Research Facility were allocated to create elite upgraded military units. Egon Stetmann sabotaged the installation and made his escape amidst the confusion and turned to the Tyrator III launcher aboard a merchant ship. [54] Domain engaged in an economic conflict with combination. The latter would sabotage the sabotage domain operations. [55] In an attempt to "simplify" relationships, Mengsk sent ghosts to kill Victor Kachinsky. [56] The Ghost Program [] Ghost Academy moved to Ursa [57] from Tarsonis. [58] Arcturus Mengsk ordered half of his government's ghost recruits. Senator Corbin Phash of Maltair IV secretly harbored a psychic son, Colin. The secret was revealed when the planet was attacked by the Zerg. Only the two phashes survived. [60] Corbin Phash took refuge with the protectorate found itself under an economic blockade of domination, raising the price of food. The domain even tried to kill Corbin Phash, but Phash survived the attack. [62] Domination became public relations to defend his use of ghosts to counteract the propaganda made by former Senator Phash and spread through the protectorate. [63] The Dominion's most important military development project since the end of the Creative War was Project: Thor, a (formerly) Secret Secreweapon System. Umojan agent Ulli Trey infiltrated the test facility, which brought the information to the UMOJAN protectorate. [64] The protectorate planted evidence, the attack on the anti-domain faction, the front of the Koprulu release. [65] The domain ordered the destruction of smaller terrorist groups. [58] In 2501, the closed domain. Shadowblade project, a ghost program that used the terrazine, a psychic reagent, to enhance the powers of the ghosts. The results were called spectra. However, numerous problems arose, causing the project to turn off. The Survivor of Shadowblade and the Commander of Novarian that used the terrazine, a psychic reagent, to enhance the powers of the ghosts. Squadron Jackson Haular, in the form of General Cole Bennett, have drawn a plot with the Gabriel Tosh spectrum, the Umoja protectorate, and some players "less" like Michael Liberty. They had the intention of using the spectra to kidnap Arcturus Mengsk and place the domain under the Hauler knob. The revolution failed, however, and Hauleler and most of the spectators were killed. [66] The apparent heir and the search of artifacts [] Prince of the Prince Valerian Mengsk used the vast resources of the domain fought against the Zerg and the Protoss over a Xel'Naga artifact sector. [67] The domain fought against the Zerg and the Protoss over a Xel'Naga artifact sector. [68] and tried to buy Xel'Naga artifacts from the Kel-Morian combination. [69] The son of Arcturus Mengsk, vas secretly named the "heir father" to the domain. Valerian ordered high authority over the few who knew the true identity of him. The Prince was interested in an alien artifact in Nemaka's dead world, and hired an archaeologist, Jake Ramsey, to look at him. Ramsey discovered a secret there, but when the Marines of Valerian in the gray tiger imprisoned him, Ramsey fled with R.M. Dahl to the world of dead man's rock, which was outside the Dominion space. [21] The Zerg attacked little after, drawn by the discovery of Ramsey. Arcturus Mengsk considered this invasion as an attack on Terran's domain. [59] The domain eventually attacked the world of the Protose Sanctuary of Alys'aril, fighting the Zerg that attacked him and capturing for a while, finally recovering Ramsey Without the preserver who had sought). The domain was able to claim some memory crystals from ruin, but were forced again by a big big day daelam Conflict with Raynor and Mar Sara[] Dominion official Tamsen Cauley, however, in part of a plan to increase his own power, recruited a gang of outlaws, the war pigs, to assassinate Raynor. He formed an army that was not from Mengsk. Not the Dominion" - the Cerberus Program, which I would use to kill the war pigs once Raynor was murdered. (The war pigs had been a team of Confederates that Cauley used in those days to try to kill Arcturus Mengsk.) [71] Raynor managed to escape Cauley's wrath. [72] The Dominion showed a renewed interest in the Sara system and established several outposts there. [73] For months, Dominion engineers excavated an alien device at White Rock Base. The Dominion sent citizens there by force from Backwater Station to excavate it. [74] Mengsk made foreign merchandise trade illegal. [75][76] Wings of Freedom[] The open revolt in the forces of Mar Sara Dominion established a logistics headquarters at the Backwater Station, which becomes the center of all operations at Mar Sara. Shortly after the Dominion pulled troops out of the city, Raynor destroyed the logistics headquarters with the help of the locals, [77] inciting an open revolt against the Dominion Fleet has been put on alert. [78] Raiders disrupt Dominion operations While the Dominion was preparing to move the device out of the world, Raynor's Marines destroyed the White Stone Base and took the device would be treated to the fullest extent of the law. Meanwhile, a freighter from the Dominion corridor was hijacked by pirates. [79] General Horace Warfield The Dominion was invaded by the zerg, which led to the outbreak of the Second Great War.[80] Mengsk returned the fleet to protect Central worlds, abandoning the worlds of Fringe [49], including sour. [12] Mengsk declared new austerity measures and reactivated Warfield, which began "Burnout Operation" to clean the Sara Sara The first fleet participated in the operation, as the central worlds were fortified. Massive fleets of refugees fought to secure the main worlds. The death toll rose due to shortages of food and water. [83] A massive remembrance of retired ex-soldiers began, with many trying to avoid returning to duty. [84] The retreat stations opened through the central worlds after the Kel-Morian combination was defeated by the Zerg. [85] A dominance weapons plant on Nefe II exploded, causing a chain reaction that pulled out several housing complexes in a working-class neighborhood. Dominion Security claimed it was an act of terror by Raynor, but Universal News Network investigations suggested that the plant had been infiltrated by Rogue's domain ghosts. [86] Plot branch: Raynor's assailants protect fleets of refugees (a canon), they declined, as several Windows Fringes started new colonies and declared themselves independent of the domain. Mengsk tightened security measures. There were food riots in the Fringe Worlds. [87] Branch of the plot: the assailants of Raynor Purify Haven (B Canon), as the refugees continued with the flood domain space, Mengsk ordered the fleet to repel the refugee boats that entered the systems of the Central World. [88] Branch of the plot: Raynor's assailants help Gabriel Tosh (a canon) The new Folsom was broken by Tosh with the assistance of Raynor's Raiders. [89] The Dominion's most valuable soners were released, including former project members: Shadowblade and a number of political dissidents. Domain security forces were put on high alert. [90] Branch of the plot: Raynor's assailants, Nova Terra destroyed the facility Tosh's spectra capacity at Avernus station [91] and killed Tosh. [92] The dominion remained firm under Zerg's aggression. His industrial complex intensified production on all fronts, enlistment rates increased within the penal system, and the Dominion Marine Corps was soon ready to start pressing Zerg's back. [93] The second fleet regrouped. The dalestral shipyards after the Kerrigan attack in Tyrador VIII. In the meantime, the rationing was extended to useful articles. [94] TARSONIS salvage operations The domain placed Tarsonis under strict quarantime, while its rescue teams were tamed through debris for any confederate technologies and military secrets that may have survived the assault on Zerg. Mengsk promised the scattered refugees that Tarsonis would be restored and dominion would help him guide him to a brighter future. [95] They restored power to the old railway network and ran a lot of supply trains with minimal security. They found assistant 23-46, but as they transported her to the processing station, her trains came under attack by Raynor's assailants. The domain responded by sending escorts to protect trains, attacking Raynor's base, building a series of bunkers to protect tracks, patrolling tracks with large groups of rockers and increasing the assistant. [96] With Zerg sightings throughout the domain, the first and the second fleet were combined to defend the central worlds. [97] The Odin in Valhalla, the Odin was commanded by Tychus Findlay at the test facility in Valhalla, Communication with Korhal was blocked enough time for all domain bases in the area to be eliminated by Raynor's assailants. [98] Meanwhile, Mengsk declared a moratorium on interplanetary travel. [99] The domain presented the Odin in Unn's studies and was confused when shot at the study guards. The domain changed to a safe channel so Captain Matt Horner could not prevent a transmission test that Mengsk used the PSI emitters in Tarsonis. [100] The press was indignant [101] and the citizens were inculusted in the streets of Korhal, alleviating the fire to government buildings to express their shock and anger in the More arrests followed the broadcast. Bountiful declared independence. Before Kate Lockwell could start a ten-part split on corruption in the Dominion government, the news was terminated by domain security order. [103] Valerian was scheduled to speak at the launch of the Moebius Foundation. [105] The space battle over Char Valerian and Warfield left half of the fleet to Char, accompanied by Raynor's assailants. The Zerg launched a spoiler attack [106] and the few battle groups that made it to the survivors, secured a landing zone [107] and the rescued warfield. [108] The cornerstone was assembled [109] and the Corps of Engineers moved it to the base of the primary hive closter. Raynor and Warfield rooted the last of their defenses around them [110] before using it to make Kerrigan Human again. [111] Heart of the Swarm [] Nova in the lab as the dominion forces left char, Mengsk arrived with the other half of his fleet, demanding that Kerrigan surrender to him. Valerian refused, and the two sides of the dominance fleet turned to each other, with Valerian's dominance renegades finally passing in the race with the last two boats that had gone. [112] For the next three weeks, Mengsk's forces conducted a relentless search for Kerrigan. [113] Nova led a raid on the EB-103 research station [114] Domain insertion equipment was held up by the Umbrian Marines, while the facility was evacuated. Nova's forces captured the security center and put the facility on lockdown, but Kerrigan and Raynor managed to Capture Raynor. [115] Mengsk announced that Raynor was dead [116] when, in fact, he was taken to the Moors, and Mengsk took all the precautions to guarantee Nobody reached it. [117] After his victory, Mengsk promulged a brutal civil oppression rank to end the riots caused by Raynor's Raiders' actions. [118] The Drakken pulse drop The domain fleet attacked the hyperion over Phaeton, negating to cease the fire even when Horner told them that Valerian was on board, since Mengsk was willing to sacrifice anything to kill Kerrigan at a base from Zerg, but she kept them until she arrived Broodmother Naktul. The fall was destroyed by Kerrigan and Naktul's Brood, at that time the troops of the domain fled their boats. [120] Composed of warfield when Broodmother Zagara tried to bring his BROOD through the Bone tension, Warfield brought a Gorgon that stretched them repeatedly. However, Warfield's forces retreated when Kerrigan knocked down the Gorgons awakening nests of flagella. [121] When the Warfield complex on the Dauntless Plateau was attacked, he activated his nuclear arsenal. Kerrigan survived the explosion and proceeded to destroy the fortress. [122] Although Kerrigan killed Warfield, she convinced her to leave three shuttles packaged with injured men. [123] Mengsk contacted Kerrigan and reveal that Raynor was alive. He told him to keep his swarm away from Korhal or Raynor would be killed. [124] Colonel Orlan hacked the security network of the domain deep encryption network and discovered where they were holding Raynor. When the Moors stopped at the Atlas Station to replenish themselves to the next day, he was approached by Kerrigan. In response, Mengsk put the bridge to explode. The Moors began to tear Kerrigan reached the cover of the prison, but the Soldiers Dominion could not prevent Raynor from coming out. [117] Kerrigan was drawn Skygeirr Skygeirr Skygeirr By Alexei Stukov and the peloton lining were infested terrians, and then attacked the virophages. Once your gas reserves were run out, you required time to synthesize more gas and were subjected to a new attack by the ZERG. The entrance to the facility was unfulfilled [46] and the dominional forces inside could not prevent Kerrigan from destroying the laboratory. [47] Main article: Battle of Korhal (Planetaca) The Korhal Zerg invasion with Zerg Leviathans that resemble Korhal, Mengsk called the forces of him to defend it. [125] [126] Domain fleets converged in Korhal and troops came from the entire sector, but were retained by a blockade of Leviatans under Broodmother Kilysa. [127] On the surface, Mengsk sent Korhal's children and the night wolves to eliminate Kerrigan, but they did not have successful. The Drakken Defense Network was destroyed by Bilis launchers and dominion forces were taken to augustgraduate. The forces of the domain also could not prevent the ZERG from destroyer PSI The domain deployed a PSI destroyer and launched a diverting assault. However, it was destroyed by Kerrigan and Dehaka while the ZERG under Zagara pushed the domain to the imperial sector. [129] The command of the domain tried to defend the Mengsk Palace of the Zerg and the Raynor Raiders. Mengsk sent Sky Fury Squadron, Alpha Squadron and the Odin to destroy the hyperion, but did not have? [130] In the interior of the palace, Mengsk caught Kerrigan on guard with Keystone, but Raynor intervened and saved Kerrigan, allowing him to personally kill Mengsk. [131] A new beginning [] "The military oppressive days, forced labor and limitations for the to undo corruption and ensure that it remains a clear and unwavering voicePeople. Our army will be reoriented to protect the people instead of proscribing it. This new order of government, this new domain, will remain with freedom and justice for the citizens of humanity, those brave pioneers who have fought with unimaginable horrors for Become administrators of this distant end of the universe. Never beyond the fear, greed or alien threats will force us to leave our legitimate place in the Koprulu sector, or the Sacred Human Desire for Freedom. "Valerian, now Emperor after the death of his father, the Valerian Prince He assumed the throne. He prepared to rebuild the dominion and committed to abolish the oppressive laws that had existed during the reign of his father. Most of him dedicated him to reign on a domain that had fallen into chaos. [132] A new social justice system was developed [2]. Hoping to negotiate a mutual security pact that included a technological association, Valerian made proposals in good faith to the Council of Rulers of Umojan, while declared a ceasefire with Hierarch Artanis. The domain stopped all aggressive actions against the Daelam. [118] While reviewing the records of his father, Valerian found the existence of the Blackstone facilities to rescue surviving scientists. He offered them a continuous service (and paid) for the project, using the scientific ship as its mobile base. He talked with Dr. Tallen Ayers and wanted to appoint him chief of his project. He promised to do everything possible to find the daughter's missing daughter. [132] A new war [] Sky Shield Korhal was attacked by the Moebius body. Sky Shield was invaded and his atmospheric stabilizers were deactivated, causing him to fall towards Augusgrad. Raynor's troops repaired stabilizers after an army protoss led Artanis cleared the body Moebius. Once the platform stabilizer and the cornerstone was taken by Moebius Corps. Raynor and Valerian established their bases at Bennet Harbour, where they were overwhelmed by the protected by the immortals deployed by Artanis. The dominion claimed the cornerstone, [134] suffering enormous losses in the process [135] The domain gave the cornerstone to the Protoss and transmitted all its data to Fase-Smith Karax. [136] [137] The domain tried to contain the golden army. Despite their efforts, multiple systems fell. [138] The domain tried to contain the golden army. violate its terms. [139] Dominance forces entering the void Raynor and Horner led their forces on a void expedition with Artanis and Kerrigan as she transformed herself into a Xel'naga [141] and helped her fight Amon. [142] This article or section contains information derived from cooperative missions, and should not be considered part of the official history of Starcraft. Throughout the final war, the domination of Terrans provided their forces to help in the fight against Amun. Led by Jim Raynor, Rory Swann, Matt Horner (with the help of mercenary leader Mira Han) and agent Nova Terra, dominance we were able to win several key victories against Amon. [143] Sacred Lands [] After Amun's defeat, the domain sent an expedition to rescue Egon Stetmann was successfully extracted. [145] Golden Age [] In 2508, Valerian declared that open elections would be held within the domain. [146] A ceasefire was declared with the Daelaam and Zerg Swarm. [147] A DMZ was established between the territories of Terran Dominion, Zerg and Daelalam, [148], as well as rules with respect to salvage vessels. [149] No civilian era was And the domain maintained a military presence to keep the peace in the DMZ. [150] The celebration of memorizing the third anniversary of the fall of his father's regime, Valerian celebrated a monumental celebration at the capital wing of Augustgrad, Heralding into a new era of prosperity and peace within the domain. In the steps of the Senate, Horner reaffirmed the military's support for the new dominance government. Meanwhile, peace negotiations were under way with Daelaam. [151] However, as the swarm asserted Char and the surrounding systems, the ceasefire between the three races of the Koprulu sector was asked to the question. [147] However, Valerian confessing guilt, however, documents confirming Valerian's connections with the Moebius Foundation and its hybrid were found by the Umojan Protectorate, and were threatened with breaking the trust, Valerian had gained from his people. Valerian's ordered agent, Nova Terra, to infiltrate, a space fortress of Umojan Protectorate appointed maintenance to retrieve the documents. Nova succeeded in getting in, destroying Keep's defenses and retrieving the documents before reinforcements arrived. Valerian expressed regret for being complicit in the hybrid breeding program, and Nova convinced him that he cannot run from his past. Therefore, Valerian released the documents publicly, confirming their connected the struggle, the population tired of the Dominion war tried to recover from the previous conflicts. [153] Many people were anxious for peace, but a conflict of interest arose among members of the population, [154] and how even they operated in a time of peace was a question. Some people wanted to make sure that the domain remained ready for any future alien attack, and that the security and weapons needed to protect themselves. Others were more interested in ensuring that Valeriana Valeri allowed their enemies to question their actions with impunity. One anti-domination faction that emerged was the defenders of man, secretly united under Dominion, including Nova Terra and Stone, were loaned to the defenders of man. [157] During this struggle, Zerg's swarms were seen on outer colony worlds, including Ancient Prime. Unknown to the Dominion, these attacks were orchestrated by man's defended worlds. [158] Admiral Horner claimed that this was an isolated incident, and Valerian declared that the dominion was not at war with the Zerg, but the abundant and several outer colonies were struck by Zerg, with a slow response from the dominion. [1] Phantom Agent Nova Terra was assigned to investigate the activities of human rights defenders. [154] However, she and a number of other ghosts of dominance were soon missing. Radio Liberty worked to uncover the truth, revealing a number of domain ghosts, including Nova, were working for the defenders. [159] These files were sent to Matt Horner, who promised a domain response to the situation. [160] A base of domination over the Borea attacks continued through the outer colonies, with a slow-dominated response that leads to disillusionment with the regime of Valerian Mengsk and the support of the defenders of man. Nova broke away from a man's base defender, [161] and reconnected with Horner in Borea. At that moment, the Zerg attacked Borea. [162] Nova organized a defender of Man Battlecruisers came to save the colony, and demanded that the Dominion withdraw and surrender Nova. Horner used the chaos of his to escape the planet with Nova and Valerian Mengsk were reunited, and he supplied it with his PAHO crew and reigel, his weapons engineer.
